Be engaged.

While also serving in other roles as advisors, committee members and coordinators at the College, librarians connected with faculty and students to promote "Moving Forward 2017" events.

Be empowered.

Students, faculty and staff continue critical dialogue, reflection and education about College policies/ support services, current events and community concerns through film showings and lectures.

Call to Action: In response to tension and anxiety among faculty and students at SCCC Library after the 2016 U.S. presidential elections, librarians immediately mobilized to put together resources and "Moving Forward 2017" discussion panels addressing civil rights issues especially those impacting immigrants, people of color, the LGBTQ community, etc.
